

Carlos Winograd

Carlos Winograd is currently Professor and Research Fellow and Professor at Paris School of Economics - École normale supérieure, and Associate Professor, University of Paris-Evry V d'Essone. He has received several international scholarships and awards such as the National Prize in Economics (Losango) in Brazil, among other distinctions. In 2004 he received the Academic Merit Award from the French Government.

From 1999-2002, he was Secretary of State for Competition, Regulation and Consumer Affairs, Government of Argentina and in charge of the Coordination for the Ministry of Economics and Finance (Argentina) of the Mercosur Macroeconomic Initiatives, 1999-2001. He has developed consulting activities for multilateral institutions, governments and the corporate sector on macroeconomics, strategy, mergers and acquisitions, litigation and antitrust regulation. Carlos has taught at universities in France, UK, Argentina and Brazil.

He holds a first degree in Economics from the University of Buenos Aires, a Masters in Economics (Cum Lauda) from the Pontificia Universidade Catolica Rio de Janeiro (PUC/RJ). He has been student at the University of Oxford (Nuffield College and Wolfson College) and holds a Masters and PhD from the École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales (PSE-EHESS).

His publications include the books Open Economy and Predetermined Exchange Rate: What do we Learn from the Argentine Experience?, Estudios Cedes, Argentina, 1984; Argentina in the 20th Century: An Account of Long-Awaited Growth (joint with M.A. Véganzones), OECD, Paris, 1997; and recent articles include, "Specialisation and Trade Regimes: The Case of Argentina", in J.L. Bour, D. Heymann and F. Navajas, Finance and Trade in Latin America, Basil Blackwell, Oxford, 2004; "Regulation and Antitrust in an Emerging Economy: The Case of Argentina" (joint with M. Celani), in N. Mulder and J. Oliveira, Trade, Industrial Policies and Regulation in the Southern Cone, OECD, Paris, 2005; "The Political Economy of Imperfect Taxation and Sustainable Privatisation: Winners and Losers" (joint with R. Ahrend), in Public Choice, 2006; "Crise de dette et restructuration : les controverses récentes" (joint with F. Alvaredo), in L'Harmattan, Paris, 2006; "Macroeconomic Coordination Policies: From Europe to Mercosur", in Blyde, Fernandez Arias and Giordano, IDB, 2008; "Competition Policies and Economic Crisis", in Competition-Concurrences Review, 2009; "Crises Financieras e Políticas de Concorrência : O que Fazer?", published in Novos Dilemas da Política Econômica – Ensaio em Homenagem a Dionísio Dias Carneiro, Edmar Bacha, Rio de Janeiro, 2011. "Finance and Economics in Neutral Countries during World War Two: Argentina", published in The Economics of Neutral Countries during World War Two, Association of Financial History, Switzerland, 2012. He also has published frequently in newspapers and non specialized publications.

Carlos Winograd's research projects are on International Macroeconomics, Regulation and Antitrust, Political Economy, Trade, Competitiveness and Dynamic Specialization, Money Inflation and Financial History.

E-mail: winograd@pse.ens.com