

John Bell

John Bell is Professor of Law (1973) in the University of Cambridge. He has been guest professor at Paris 1 and Paris 2, Aix-en-Provence and the Université du Maine. His main work is on comparative law. He is interested in legal methods, the law of obligations and public law (general principles of administrative and constitutional law). His current work is in three areas: legal sources, French constitutional law and the German law of delict.