

Biography Danièle VOLDMAN

Emeritus Director of Research at CNRS-CHS-Paris1-Panthéon-Sorbonne, Danièle Voldman has dedicated part of her studies to the history of architecture and urban growth in contemporary times with an emphasis on the transformation of the profession of architect in the 20th century. She has written among other texts, a biography of Fernand Pouillon (2006) and a history of the relationships between tenants and landlords in France in the 19th and 20th century (2016), both published by Payot editions.