

Hugues de Thé

Born January 18, 1959 in Marseille,
French citizen, married, 4 children
Collège de France, Place Marcelin Berthelot 75005 Paris FRANCE

Degrees

- MD: University of Paris V (1989)
- PhD: University of Paris VI (1990)

Professional experience

- MD/PhD training, post-doc (INSERM U163) P. Tiollais, Pasteur Institute (1985-1991)
- Assistant professor, INSERM U163 & Hospital St. Louis, Paris (1991-1993)
- Associate professor, University of Paris, Hospital St. Louis, Paris (1993-1995)
- Professor of molecular biology, University of Paris (1995-2014)
- Head of Department, CNRS/University of Paris VII, Hospital St. Louis, Paris (1995-2019)
- Attending physician, St. Louis Hospital, Paris (1995-)
- Professor at the Collège de France. Chair of cellular and molecular oncology (2014-)

Scientific advisory boards (selected)

- Adviser to the director of INSERM (1997-2001)
- TATA memorial Foundation, London (1999-2016)
- President scientific council of ARC (2003-2005)
- Bettencourt Schuller Foundation, president of the scientific advisory board (2014-)

Honours and awards (selected)

- Prix. B. Halpern 1992
- Prix R. Mandé (French Academy of Medicine) 1996
- Prix Rosen (Fondation for Medical Research) 1999
- Member of EMBO (2004)
- Prix Mergier-Bourdeix (French Academy of Science) 2004
- Member of Institut Universitaire de France (2007-2014)
- Prix Griffuel, ARC (2010)
- Prix Claude Bernard, City of Paris (2010)
- French Legion of Honour (2010)
- Senior grant European Research Council (ERC) 2011
- Member French Academy of Science (2011)
- Foreign cooperation award, Chinese Office Science & Technology Awards (2011)
- Jose Carrera award, Europea Hematology Association (2015)
- Ernest Beutler award, American Society of Hematology (2016)
- Sjoberg Prize, Swedish Royal Academy of Sciences (2018)
- Senior grant European Research Council (ERC) 2018
- Member, the National Academy for Medicine (USA) 2020
- Member, The Royal Academy of Medicine of Belgium 2021