Anti-Judaism, Critical Thought, and the Possibility of History

David NIRENBERG

Director and Leon Levy Professor,
Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton

Invité par l'Assemblée du Collège de France, sur proposition du Professeur Patrick BOUCHERON

In my book Antijudaïsme (Labor et Fides, 2023), I proposed that we should understand the long history of Anti-Judaism not merely as the history of a prejudice, but also as the history of our Western religions (such as Christianity and Islam), philosophies (such as Idealism and Marxism), ethics and ideals. If this is true, then how can we be sure that our critical thought is truly critical? And how can we write history that helps us achieve the capacity to critique Anti-Judaism in the present, rather than reproducing it?

Les conférences sont gratuites, en accès libre, sans inscription préalable.
